Reynolds' Battery L

Bello:

Reynolds' Battery L, is a 501c3 Living History Educational Corporation, chartered by the New York State Educational Board of Regents. We are dedicated to the perpetuation and remembrance of this important part of American History – the Civil War!

We invite your school, club or organization to experience the life of Civil War soldiers and civilians as we portray, in period uniforms and clothing, members of Reynolds' Battery L, First New York Light Artillery. The original battery was formed in Rochester in September of 1861.

Our Program:

Our Living History program can be molded to your needs and interests; from discussions of the causes of the Civil War, to the military aspects of the war, to the more mundane daily life of soldiers and civilians.

Our programs vary from a few individuals with what they can carry, to complete programs including live firing a full scale 3" Ordnance Rifle, fully operational traveling forge, Underground Railroad quilt, period dance lessons, civilian clothing, period games, Army Surgeon, Special Diet Kitchen, Drumming, Christian Sanitation Commission, Camp Life, Banjo Music and Marching.

Learn what soldiers wore, what they ate, where they slept and what they did when not fighting – which was most of the time.

You will discover many interesting facts such as:

Thousands of soldiers were under 15 years of age!

Every Southern state, except South Carolina sent troops into the Union Army!

Robert E. Lee's home in Virginia became Arlington National Cemetery!

More soldiers died in the Civil War than all other American wars combined!
